

East Lothian Employability Project

Lead Scotland provides a personalised, non-judgemental employability support service for adult residents 16+ in East Lothian. The service supports individuals who need help preparing for employment, finding a job or staying in work.

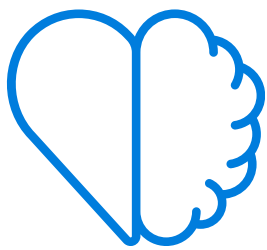

Our aim is to provide tailored support to disabled people and others looking to develop core employability skills. This free and confidential service, delivered in the community or at home, includes informal and formal learning opportunities that can lead to SCQF accreditation.

Emotional Intelligence

Alongside personalised one-to-one support, we offer group sessions that build confidence, develop key skills, and enhance overall wellbeing. These sessions help boost self-esteem, resilience, and a positive mindset—key to progress in other areas of life.

Literacy Numeracy

Our service also includes training in cyber security and internet safety, supporting individuals to navigate the digital world with confidence. We help develop core skills such as literacy and numeracy, and offer practical travel training to promote independence and access to work or learning.

CV/Interview Preparation

Additionally, we provide support with CVs and cover letters, helping individuals present their strengths and move forward with confidence.
